PART 1: STUDENT DEMOGRAPHIC DATA

The demographic information presented in Part I represents all of the students living in Hereford Residential College for academic year 2018-2019.

Note: For the pie charts below, there are two data points represented (e.g., “89, 43%). The first number is the number of students in the survey that comprise the category, and the second number is the percentage of all respondents represented in the category. For example, in the gender pie chart below, of all respondents to the survey, 119, or 57%, are female and 89, or 43%, are male.

Gender

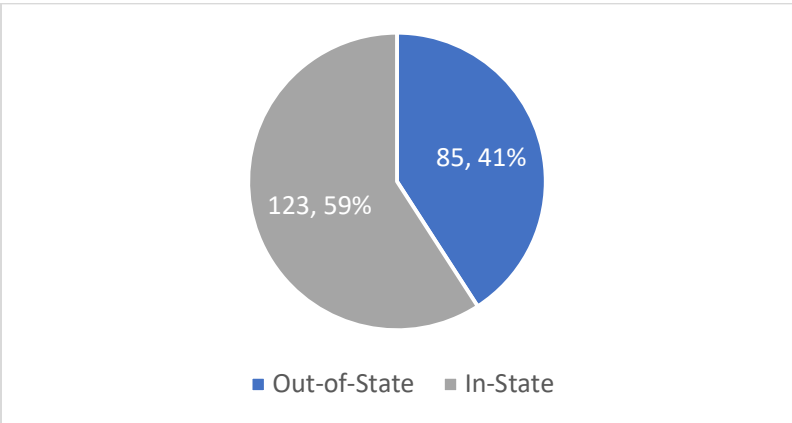

Race/Ethnicity

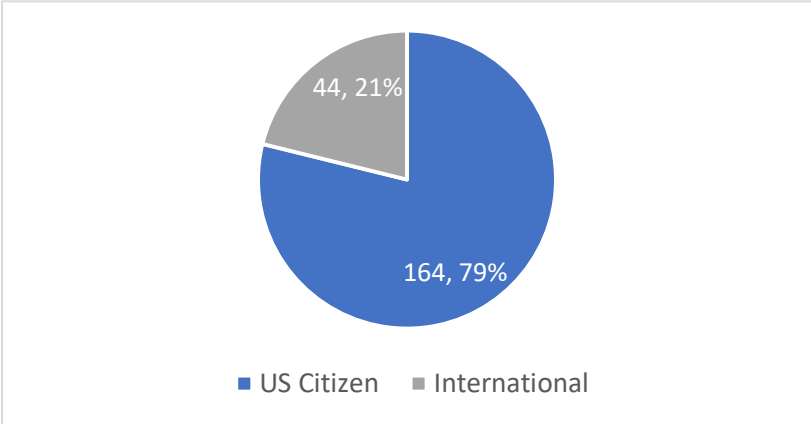

Hereford is exceptionally diverse. One way to look at the above chart is that Hereford is 67% students of color.

Hereford has a pretty balanced representation by academic class year. This is pretty unique.

School/College

Hereford has at least one student from every UVA School/College that admits undergraduates.

Hereford students are majoring in a wide variety of subject areas. There are 54 different academic disciplines represented among Herefordians, and there are 91 (44%) who remained undeclared. The most popular majors (other than undecided) are Computer Science (n=10), Biology (n=7), Mechanical Engineering (n=7), and Nursing (n=7).

PART II: STUDENT INTEREST

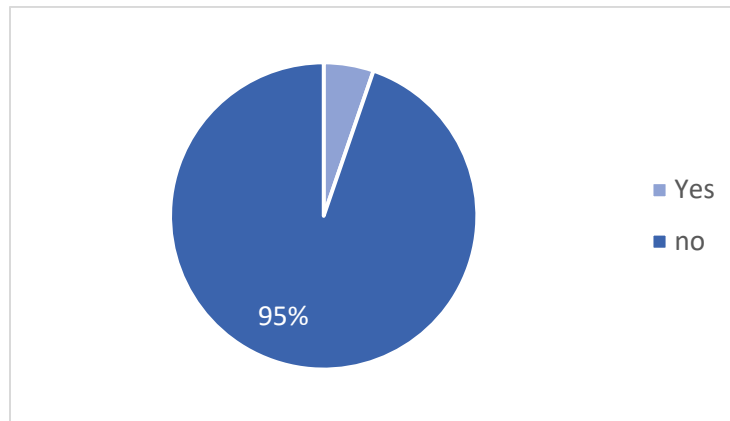

The chart below shows the average student interest in a variety of programming opportunities within Hereford. For each type of programming, on a scale from 1-10, with 10 indicating the strongest interest, if a student responded an interest of 7 or higher, he or she was then directed to an additional set of questions to answer. Thus, all students responding 7 or higher for an interest in “Banquets” were subsequently directed to an additional 3-4 questions querying their specific preferences about Banquets.

How interested are you in the following Hereford programming?

What types of sustainability initiatives would you like to see in Hereford?

- Reducing plastic waste
- Better recycling
- Clean air
- Composting quicker, more recycling bins, maybe some outreach for sustainability around campus
- Going from paper usage to air-dryers; water filtration
- I am not completely sure
- I would like to see more of the Hereford people gather and help keep the area clean
- Low flush toilets, more reusable materials
- Maybe composting our waste more
- Maybe cooking classes relating to sustainability
- Maybe motion sensed lights and faucets which both conserve resources respectively.
- maybe people can have personal composting bags (with a way to contain smell) that they can save up until they have a chance to put it in kitchen composting. Also sustainability should be an important part of the student garden; there should be a composting system that includes the garden
- More people bringing their own utensils to events. Reusing is always better than recycling
- Primarily, the best sustainability initiatives I would like to see Hereford conduct are ones focused on energy and reducing the energy consumption of the community.
- Reduced water usage
- Renewable energy, less waste, posters of reminders about to be more sustainable
- Shower timers in all stalls, compost

- Solar panels, more efforts to normalize composting, education about recycling (how recycling is processed, where it goes, etc.), water/energy conservation initiatives, education about reducing waste and becoming less materialistic
- Something to cut out so much paper towel use. It would be cool if we could get a rack for individuals' hand towels in the bathrooms on each floor
- The ones being implemented now are very good
- The use of environmentally friendly cleaners (there are homemade ones!)...I'm thinking about organizing a workshop!
- Vegan cooking demos, hikes, sustainability challenges
- Vegan stuff

It's better to talk to your peers regarding this issue and make space for everyone to reach out to others if they would like to share their struggles.

- Clean up behind the shed to clear a space for a bench
- Create a seating area in the garden with a table and chairs and hanging lights
- Figuring out how to optimize the growth rate of sunflowers
- Flower arrangements
- Grow sunflowers
- Grow tomatoes (3)
- I would work on planting a lot of mint and other multipurpose leaves
- I'd do a project on planting fruit trees. That way, every year students who live at and near Hereford (even passersby) can enjoy the trees annually
- Just to add more vegetable plants
- Learn how to garden
- N/A
- Plant food for residents to harvest
- Putting up a grape vine maybe
- Rose bush
- Weeding and organizing the toolshed. Maybe outdoor cooking classes using mostly ingredients from the garden.

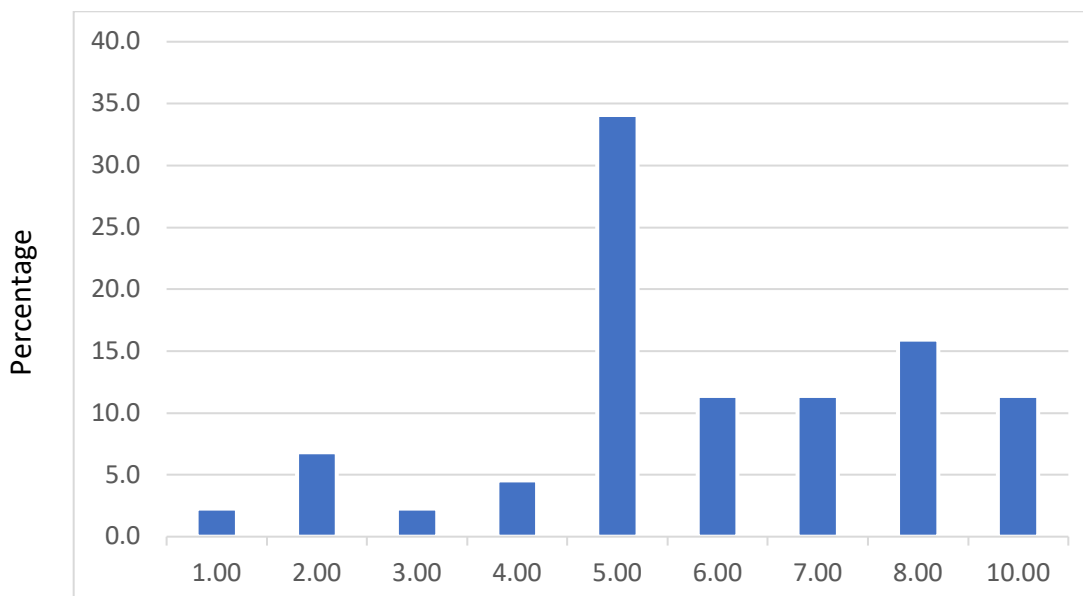

What are some of your ideas to improve the garden?

- Blackberries

- Create a list of people who are interested in helping with the garden and set up a schedule where 3-4 people go to the garden every weekend to check on the plants and to do some weeding. Also maybe have some breakfast clubs in the garden and more events in general there.
- Get residents to work on the garden more often.
- Give it more attention
- Increase space to grow tomato
- Increase the size
- Make it bigger
- Make it more appealing to look at, so people will be more drawn to it and thus will want to maintain it
- More information needs to be given to the larger Hereford body about how they can help because some of us would love to help, we just don't know how
- More seating and more decorative lighting
- More volunteers
- Not sure/ NA (3)
- Seating
- Spend Hereford money on new beds, flowers, and better decorations for the garden
- Take some of the garden indoors, then could grow lemons/citrus and olives (I think these start out as potted plants)
- The location of the garden should be moved much farther from the street. It is currently located right next to the road, where it gets exposed to all the pollution from the vehicles that pass by. I would move the garden to a better location.
- Vertical gardening with old pallets
- Weed and keep garbage out of gardens
